IT was Edgar Allan Poe who originated the mystery story form and exercised a great literary influence on all similar writing which reached its height in our present time. Wilkie Collins, the English author, was a late contemporary of Poe's and a product of the Victorian period. The cinema interpretations of two works by these authors are presented for the first time in 16mm. The third is an original cinema story and completes our group of classic mysteries in short subject form.

THE TELL-TALE HEART

by Edgar Allan Poe

with RICHARD HART. One of the most gripping of Poe's tales is this one about the murderer whose supersensitive mind "hears" the beating heart of his victim beneath the floor of his room. None but Poe, the originator of the "mystery" story, could tell this story in a manner which roots you to your chair. You will be treated to a new thrill in story-telling and photography and in the splendid performance of Richard Hart and direction of William Cameron Menzies.

CATHEDRAL OF CHARTRES

The Cathedral of Chartres stands as a superhuman achievement in art and architecture. When the original church was destroyed, seven hundred years ago, the people, old and young, came from afar to erect the present edifice. The exquisite detail in its myriads of statuary, attests the creations of master craftsmen who labored for love and passed on, unknown. Here are the most noble examples of sculpture of a sublime century.

WESTMINSTER ABBEY

Among tombs of kings and queens is the shrine of St. Edward, the founder of the Abbey. The vaulted roofing and flying buttresses are remarkable architectural features. The coronation stone and chair, and the unknown soldier's tomb are links with modern history.

WELLS CATHEDRAL

The building is largely Gothic and stands on the site of the first church founded in 705 A.D. The west front, the altar, the ancient clock, the Chapter House and chapels are of great beauty.

SALISBURY CATHEDRAL

The first stone of this exquisite cathedral was laid in 1220. Its style is early English, and its splendid, slender spire is one of the most graceful in the world. Many fine monuments, and the spacious cloisters are amongst the most beautiful to be seen.

ST. PAUL'S CATHEDRAL

The noble cathedral dedicated to the Apostle of the Gentiles. In itself a monument to the skill of Christopher Wren. Its nave, central dome, whispering gallery, choir and high altar enshrine memorials to Nelson, Wellington, Gordon, Kitchener and others whose names are famous.

YORK CATHEDRAL

Its size and magnificence are represented by the wonderful 14th Century west front, its solemn and impressive nave, its rich and glorious windows, its spacious choir and beautifully wrought altar carvings. The weird sculptures are relics of the past.

ELY CATHEDRAL

Begun nearly a thousand years ago the building possesses original features of unique interest. The beautiful Galilee porch and the octagonal tower are marvels of architecture. The choir screen and magnificent ceiling paintings repay close inspection. The chapel possesses wonderful carvings and ancient stained glass.

GLOUCESTER CATHEDRAL

Within the building are great circular columns of Norman architecture. The vaulting of the nave and choir is rich in style, and painted glass windows date from the 14th Century. The cloisters are the finest in the world, and here are specimens of beautiful fan tracery.

WINCHESTER CATHEDRAL

Its foundations go back to pre-Roman times. The nave is of vast grandeur. The unbroken vaulted roof rests on two rows of clustered pillars. The carvings and tracery are richly beautiful in the soft light which streams through priceless stained glass. The Norman font in black marble and the carving of the altar arrest attention.

PETERBOROUGH CATHEDRAL

Scarred by invasion and fire, the cathedral has passed through architectural periods of great interest. From the west door there is an unbroken vista to the altar and the lofty transept. In the 15th Century eastern chapel with its fine vaulted roof, is the famous Monk's stone.

LINCOLN CATHEDRAL

Lincoln stands on a site chosen by the Romans. The cathedral is one of the oldest and greatest. The great west front has a Norman doorway and the windows have glass of colours of an art lost in the 13th Century.

CANTERBURY CATHEDRAL

The mother cathedral of England. There has been a church on this site since the days of Augustine. The present building followed a Norman church which was gutted by fire in the 12th Century. Besides the beautiful and noble architecture there are the tombs of many historical characters.

LICHFIELD CATHEDRAL

This three-spired cathedral is one of the most beautiful in England. The central spire was ruined in the Civil War, but afterwards restored. There are fine windows, and the west front has lavish adornment.
